

Point-of-Care Lyme Disease Sensor

We have developed a novel sensor for Lyme disease that can be used on humans, companion animals, livestock, and species that are reservoirs for the pathogen. Project entails developing instrumentation and readout to enable this sensor to be used at point-of-care and in the field.